Past campers proudly say:

I LOVE WXDU

Why? Because aside from bringing you all that fun and great music, Camp WXDU keeps you hip and in the know, with a run-down of local arts events with Artline, daily at 11am and 7pm, and a Concert Calendar daily at noon and 8pm. Not only that, but Camp XDU is your source for free stuff! Campers can receive tickets to local concert venues and to the Carolina Theater, plus free CDs and loads of other fun items to make your visit a happy one!

Two informative new shows bring campers the international sounds they've asked for: check out Cindy on Tuesday mornings from 8-11, and Tim on Sundays from 5-7pm. And don't forget King Ayoola's reggae show, Sundays from 3-5pm!

World

WXDU spotlights the best in blues, country, and bluegrass music, a sure bet to bring out the lil' roper in any camper!

Bluegrass: Sun 9-11am Country: Sun 11-1pm
Blues: Sat 2-5pm; Sun 7-10pm

WXDU's 2-5am DJs are there to steady you when you're hanging by a thread. Expert counselors Gary, Megan, Jesse, James, Ian, Alan, and Paul keep campers rockin' while they're rolling out of (or into) bed.

TWANG

WXDU keeps you riding tall and sounding smooth with the most diverse jazz programming in the Triangle. Monday through Friday from 5-8pm, and again on Saturdays from 10am to 1pm. Our qualified instructors will train campers in all forms of jazz, from the old standards to avant-garde techniques. Always a favorite!

LOCAL

Ross Grady teaches campers about the musical history and current events of the area each Sunday from 1 to 3pm with the local music show. Campers get to experience live music, too, with frequent appearances by local rockers!

Every Saturday evening from 5-6 pm, Christa Wessel (and featured guests) rock the proverbial boat with WXDU's call-in talk show: Five Minutes of Fame. Campers can tune in, or call the request lines to voice their opinions on any number of topics. Only for advanced swimmers!

Talk Show

Camp WXDU's mix DJs are always on-target with the latest in urban music. DJ G-Double instructs in house music Mondays from 2-5am, DJ Samps and Shane X run successive mix show courses Saturdays at 8 and 10pm, followed by cool-down time at midnight with ENS and Javon on the Soulside. DJ Madd hits the mike and the mark Sundays from 11pm to 2am, so be sure and pack extra batteries for that Walkman!
